

Week's Top Event

The twenty-ninth annual Carnival Ball, sponsored by the St. Joseph Academy Parents' Club, will be staged at 9 p.m. Saturday, February 24, in St. Joseph's Memorial Hall.

In the past, the identity of king and queen and of their court will be kept a secret until their appearance at the ball. According to reports, the couples of the court are not only unusually beautiful but also quite unusual and different from any in balls of the past.

Keeping with the theme of ball, "Rhapsody in Dreams," maid and duke will be in the center of the strains of the melody which they will represent. The musical phase, in itself, will be an unusual innovation for the ball as each song has been carefully selected and the entire program has been specially taped this occasion.

Entertainment for the court will be provided by the Hines Dance Co. of Gulfport. The group, known along the Coast, has received with much enthusiasm by many of the carnival organizations in this area.

Tickets, at $2.00 per person, available at Bobby Ann Baker's Drug Store and Waveland Drug Store. All seats are reserved.

Guest chairman, Edward Murphy, reports ticket sales have increased in the past week. He advises that tickets be purchased in advance in order to avoid disappointment at the door.

Mayor John A. Scatfield, general chairman, will be master of ceremonies. Mrs. Andy Becker is executive chairman with Mrs. R. G. Hubbard Jr., Mrs. Lawrence Jacob and Mrs. Willy Rhodes, co-chairmen.

Other committee chairmen are Arthur Chapman, floor; Mrs. Charles Flinn and Mrs. Clifford Becklund, court; Mrs. Edward Becklund, advertising; Mrs. A. G. Farris and Mrs. Emma Mazzanti, publicity; Mrs. Virgil Glant, set design; Mrs. A. Lagasse, theme and decorating; Warren Carver, door; Mrs. Curtis Mathis, lighting; Mrs. M. A. Charge Two For Breakins

Two Alabama men charged with the breakin last Thursday of a residence on U. S. Highway 90 west of Bay St. Louis are being held in Hancock County jail awaiting preliminary hearings before Beat 5 Justice of the Peace Nelius Rhodes.

According to Chief Deputy Sheriff Gerald V. Price, Milford G. Parker Sr., 37, and his son, Ruben Jerry Parker, 19, both of Opelika, Ala., were released Friday from the Harrison County jail at Gulfport, to his custody here.

The men are charged with the theft of articles from the residence of P. D. Dupont Sr., Highway 90.

The pair were arrested by Harrison County sheriff's Det. H. J. Ladner for investigation Thursday evening when he halted their automobile near the Bay St. Louis bridge.

According to the officer, Ruben Parker was driving the car, but failed to produce a driver's license. Ladner then checked the automobile and found it contained three fifths of non-tax paid liquor, a vacuum cleaner, waffle iron, portable radio, electric razor, alarm clock, a loaded .38 caliber pistol, a movie camera and four white shirts in laundry wrappings.

According to Ladner, the two men, when interrogated in Gulfport Friday, allegedly admitted to him and Det. Douglas Thompson the breakin of the Dupont residence about a half-hour before their car was halted at the bridge.

Price said Dupont has identified all the articles found in the automobile as belonging to him with the exception of the vacuum cleaner, clock and shirts.

The shirts were found to belong to the men, Price added, but an investigation is continuing to determine if the other articles can be identified.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Gerald V. Price Jr. reported two men were accidentally wounded at 8 a.m. Monday when a .22 caliber pistol discharged while they were seated at a table in a local rooming house.

Price said a bullet from the pistol grazed the leg of Josephus Johnson, 32, a Hattiesburg construction worker, and lodged in the leg of Junior Peters, of Waveland. Peters was admitted to Hancock General Hospital for surgery to remove the bullet, Price said.

Price quoted Johnson, who is employed on a road construction job in the county, as saying he had recently purchased the weapon and was removing it from his pocket to show to Peters when the pistol accidentally discharged.

THE LITTLE THEATRE SETS 'THE LITTLE FOXES' MARCH 15, 16, 17

Lillian Hellman's three act drama of the Old South at the turn of the century, "The Little Foxes," has been selected by the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre as the opening play of the 1962 season. It will be presented at the Boardman Avenue playhouse on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 15, 16 and 17.

"The Little Foxes" has enjoyed tremendous success everywhere it has been presented since the original presentation on Broadway in 1938 starring Tallulah Bankhead. Subsequently it was produced as a motion picture by Warner Brothers with Bette Davis in the lead role. An unusually strong cast has been in rehearsal for the past several weeks under the direction of Mr. John Kovace, of Henderson Point and those in-the-know are looking forward to a brilliant presentation.

All members of the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre are presently engaged in a membership drive. The Board of the Little Theatre wishes to point out that the Little Theatre is not an exclusive club or society and the public in general are welcome to membership. JACKSON, Miss.—Legislation to create a Hancock County port and harbor commission as part of planning for the multi-million dollar missile testing site in the county was introduced this week by Rep. Clarence M. Ladner, Hancock county, and Ed Stevens, Pearl River County.

Ladner said the bill as introduced in the House would create a seven-member commission to plan necessary development on Pearl river to aid in barging Saturn missiles to the static firing facility which will be built by the federal government near Logtown.

Ladner said the Hancock county port and harbor commission would be established by amendments to the 1958 act which authorized state ownership and development of ports and also state aid to local port authorities.

"Since the government plans to send the Saturn missile up Pearl river to the Hancock county site by barge, it will be necessary to provide some harbor and dockside facilities on the river," Ladner declared.

"This is a tremendous project for our county and we are trying to do our part to assist," the Hancock county lawmaker declared.

He said the county port and harbor commission will have power to plan port development at Bay St. Louis later on.

An identical bill was introduced in the Senate, Ladner said, by Sen. Quitman Lott of Purvis and Sen. Stanford Morse Jr., Gulfport.

The measure provides that five members of the Hancock body would be appointed by members of the county board of supervisors and two by the governor. All would be for four-year terms.

TRIO FINED HELD FOR TRIAL FELONY CHARGE

Three Kentuckians taken into custody last Tuesday evening near Stuckey's on U.S. Highway 90 by Deputy Sheriff Gerald V. Price Jr. and Gerald Favre were tried on misdemeanor charges in Justice of the Peace Nelius Rhodes' Court Tuesday night, February 20.

Deputy Sheriff Price said the trio, Leland Gregory, alias Ike Benton, a three-time parole violator, on parole from a 1 to 15 year sentence in Ohio, and a two to three year stretch in Kentucky, among others; Virgil Elam, one year from Illinois, and Johnny Johnson, also on parole, were each fined $50 for carrying concealed weapons and $25 each for public drunkenness.

They will be tried, Price added, at a later date by District Attorney Boyce Holleman on a felony count.

The men were apprehended after a tip was received from a Pearlrington man who reported seeing the trio in a bar and noticed that one was carrying a gun. They offered no resistance after being surprised by the deputies in a driveway about one thousand feet from Stuckey's.

When taken into custody, they had a quantity of stolen merchandise and two revolvers in their possession.

The merchandise had been taken from places between Lake Charles and New Orleans and during another robbery between the White Kitchen and Bay St. Louis. The men did not seem to remember just where the robberies occurred.

The sheriff's office was assisted in the investigation by Ford O'Neal, special investigator for the Mississippi Highway Patrol.

Who Will It Be?

The $4 dollar question this week is "Who will reign over the 1962 carnival ball to be staged in St. Joseph Academy auditorium Saturday night?"

The annual affair, sponsored by the St. Joseph Academy Parents' Club with "Rhapsody in Dreams" as its theme, promises to be as dazzling an event this year as it has been in the past.

Tickets, which are still available at the Bobby Ann Baker, Fahey Drug Store, Waveland Drug Store, can also be obtained by contacting Edward Murtagh, ticket chairman.

Gulfport Man Held Here For Grand Jury Action

A Gulfport man waived a preliminary hearing before Beat One Justice of the Peace Lester Hovey and has been bound over to await action of the March term grand jury on a breaking and entering charge.

The man, identified by Chief Deputy Sheriff Gerald V. Price Jr., as William J. Hollingsworth, 32, of Gulfport, was released Saturday from the Hancock County jail on $1,000 appearance bond.

According to Price, Hollingsworth is charged with the break-in about two weeks ago of an unoccupied restaurant building on U. S. Highway 90 west of Bay St. Louis.

He was arrested in Gulfport by Det. Pete Payne of the Gulfport police department and turned over to the custody of Sheriff Price.

The American Legion and the Knights of Columbus have been closely associated in their various programs over the years and it is thought that the following might be of some interest. This was taken from a newspaper clipping (publication not identified) of 1927.

PRaise
The American Legion National Headquarters, Indianapolis, Indiana, November 4, 1927.

Mr. Martin H. Carmody, Supreme Knight, Knights of Columbus, New Haven, Conn.

My dear Mr. Carmody:

The Ninth Annual Convention of the American Legion, the Second A.E.F. held in Paris, France, September 1927, has passed into history as the most successful convention ever held by the Legion. And this success is due, in a great measure, to the splendid co-operation of the Knights of Columbus in the operation of a "D" of C. but similar to those conducted by your organization during the World War.

On every side we receive expressions of commendation for the wonderful service rendered so efficiently under the able direction of Commissioner Edward L. Hearn and his assistant, Mr. Fred Milan.

Every Legionnaire has a warm spot in his heart for the Knights of Columbus and this feeling has grown larger and brighter since he visited your hut in the convention barracks at Cours de la Reine, Paris.

With deepest appreciation of the French Convention Committee of the American Legion for your splendid assistance and every good wish for the continued and growing success of the Knights of Columbus, we are,

Most sincerely yours,
(signed) Bowman Elder, National Chairman

Miss. Highway Safety Patrol Set Goal For 1962

The Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol has a "tough row to hoe" if they accomplish the goal set for 1962. Commissioner of Public Safety T. B. Birdsong made public today the Patrol's aim for this year. Birdsong stated, "The Department of Public Safety plans to 'go for broke' again this year and save 100 lives in 1962 over the 1961 figure. This may sound like an impossible task but we showed last year that we have men with the capabilities to make this a reality. In 1961 we had approximately 100 fewer traffic deaths than in 1960. January of this year has already helped toward the new goal. In January of 1961 there were 43 fatalities, January of this year produced only 34."

If this goal can be achieved, it will be an unprecedented record in traffic safety for our state and one of the most impressive ever made in the nation.

THE PROOF OF PRAYER

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend church regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the sake of his family. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	John	11	17-27
Monday	John	11	28-44
Tuesday	Acts	9	36-41
Wednesday	Romans	10	5-19
Thursday	Hebrews	11	1-7
Friday	Psalm	121	1-8
Saturday	Psalm	4	1-8

Ask—and it shall be given you. Seek—and ye shall find. Knock—and it shall be opened unto you.

The promise of Jesus is all the proof a child asks. But, knowing that we grownups are often more inclined to skepticism than faith, Christ continues:

What man is there of you, whom if his son ask bread, will give him a stone—or if he ask a fish, will he give him a serpent?

And while the multitude pondered the implication of these challenges, the Lord offered his conclusion . . . so simple as to appear obvious . . . so profound as to convince all but an atheist:

If ye, then, being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children—how much more shall your Father which is in heaven give good things to them that ask Him!

But His real proof you'll find in the experience of prayer . . . in your church . . . in your home . . . in the sacred quiet moments of every day.

Pays To See County, Agent Proof Shows

STATE COLLEGE, Miss.—Proof that it pays to see your county agent or home demonstration agent is seen in a report of M. C. Shaw, director of Agricultural Extension Service of Mississippi State University.

While Mississippi farm families get valuable help from these agencies, they made at least 10 million more last year from the Extension Service, he said.

This does not include the increased value of their lands, livestock, equipment, nor can we easily measure the development of the county agent's health and ability to help in both youth and adult education, and a more secure way of life for tens of thousands of both rural and urban people, the director pointed out.

There are some highlights: county agents urged each farmer to get a cotton allotment to repay acreage he did not intend to plant, or to apply for acres if he could use them, resulting in 171,316 acres reseeded and reallocated gave Mississippi farmers $25 million gross more than they would otherwise have lost. This meant much to local businesses of all kinds.

Chemical weed control in cotton saved Mississippi farmers 10 million, compared to the cost of hand labor, in 1961. Farmers saved additional millions by using chemical to control weeds in corn, soybeans and pastures. The Extension Service was the main channel by which farmers received information about this practice.

Top yields were raised in 1961, farmers using many improved methods developed by the Agricultural Experiment Station of Mississippi State University and used to them in an easy-to-use form by the Extension Service.

It included state averages of pounds of lint cotton per acre compared to 471 pounds of seed cotton, 28 pounds of seed per acre, compared to 24.2 pounds for the 16 years, 24.9 million more; and 28.5 bushels of soybeans per acre, compared to 17.9 bushels for the 16 years, an extra $17 million in farm income.

Income from livestock and live stock products, which includes milk and poultry, continued to climb. It reached $268 million in 1961, compared to $264 million in 1960. More than 40 percent of Mississippi's farm income now comes from livestock and live stock products.

The sale of cattle and calves alone accounted for $120 million in 1961. The value of the average herd has increased greatly in recent years.

The Extension Service has led for half a century in the development of the new-growth livestock industry, including marketing in Mississippi, Director Shaw pointed out.

Another highlight of 1961, led exclusively by the Extension Service with the Experiment Station cooperating, was increased participation in production record programs for beef cattle, dairy cattle and hogs. This testing aids efficiency of production and gives the consumer a better product.

Using insect control information from their county agents, 90 percent of the state's cotton producers realized $10 for each $1 invested in insecticides used properly.

Family vegetable gardens, valued at a conservative $50 each, account for $18 million per year.

Mississippi 4-H Club work reached a record enrollment of more than 107,000 boys and girls in 1961. This includes many boys and girls living in town as well as on farms.

At the 1961 National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago last November, Mississippi ranked second only to Oklahoma in the number of national winners. Besides winning scholarships, these top champions gave Mississippi some of the best of national advertising.

The more than 31,000 Home Demonstration Club women, besides mastering the latest home science techniques, by having the main leaders in their communities. Families in over 200 rural community clubs organized by the Extension Service have a new pride in working together for better homes in better communities.

For total development of both human and economic resources, the Agricultural Extension Service began in 1901 the successful organization for Rural Areas Development in every county in Mississippi. This program ties together and gives improved guidance to the efforts of all local agencies and organizations interested in development.

Room To Stretch And Breathe In Mississippi

Mississippi's assets include a good climate, excellent transportation, and plenty of water. Deep water shipping facilities are on the Gulf and the reliable old Mississippi River runs the whole length of the state. There's room to stretch out and breathe sweet, smelly, clean, fresh air. Golf can be played year around, and there's good hunting and fishing. Mississippi is quite a place.

Defeat Negro Cabinet Post

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Congressman BEN COLMER (D-Miss.) predicted defeat of President Kennedy's attempt to create a new Cabinet post for Urban Affairs and Housing and his declared intention to place a Negro in its head.

"There is no need for such a Department. This is nothing more or less than a political move to further solidify the Negro and big city vote in the Democratic Party," the veteran Mississippi Congressman said. "Several weeks ago my Committee on Rules decisively killed the Bill to create this new Department, which was reported out of the House Committee on Education and Labor headed by the Harlem Negro Congressman, Adam Clayton Powell. Now, the President is attempting to circumvent the orderly Congressional procedure by an Executive Order under the guise of re-organization."

"After many conferences, and nose counting," Colmer, who serves as unofficial Chairman of the Southern group in the House, averred, "I am absolutely confident that we have this latest move blocked. There is even a good chance," he continued, "that the Senate, which is much more liberal and responsive to the needs of the South, will reject the Board."

Rhodes-Daley Wedding In Pass Christian Last Sunday

The marriage of Miss Joan Marie Daley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Daley of Pass Christian, Miss, to Mr. Nelius C. Rhodes Jr., son of Judge and Mrs. Nelius C. Rhodes Sr., was solemnized Sunday afternoon in St. Paul's Catholic Church, Pass Christian. The Rev. J. P. McGlade performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with gold and yellow mums, carnations and white gladioli.

Appropriate nuptial selections were rendered by Tommy Bourdin, organist.

Escorted to the altar by her father, who gave her in marriage, the bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace. The scalloped neck of the bodice was embellished with sequins and seed pearls. Two ruffles with the lace designs beaded with sequins and seed pearls trimmed the bell skirt which fell into a train. The long sleeves ended in points over her hands. Her finger-tip veil of imported illusion fell from a coronet of seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of glomellias, orange blossoms, and lilies of the valley, centered with two orchids. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the groom.

Miss Gay Rhodes, sister of the groom, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Margaret Ann Ladner, and Irma Jean Seyman, ski, cousins of the bride, and Miss Mary Ann Pagano, all of Pass Christian.

Their stote length dresses of royal blue full skirts, ice blue bodices and short blouses of starched chiffon in two shades of blue. On their heads they wore matching hands trimmed with clusters of variegated blue daisies topped with shoulder length veils. They carried sprays of gold and yellow carnations.

Marie Heath, flower girl, wore a floor length lace dress fashioned with small ruffles and a bustle of peau de se. She wore a small head band and carried yellow roses.

Billy Rhodes was his cousin's best man and Bert Steffell, Roger Reinike and Anthony Loiacano were groomsmen. Manuel Maurigi, uncle of the groom, and Marvel Daley, brother of the bride, served as ushers.

A reception followed at the Miramar Hotel. Magnolia branches with arrangements of blush pink carnations decorated the reception room.

The bride's table, covered with a Madeira hand embroidered cloth, held the four-tiered wedding cake, with the bottom tier in a scalloped design, topped with triple bells atop a miniature bride and groom. Branched crystal candelabra, holding white tapers were on either side.

White gladioli, mums and fern completed the table decorations. Mrs. Manuel Maurigi, aunt of the groom, presided at the punch table, which was laid with a white lace cloth centered with a crystal bowl flanked by crystal candelabra with white tapers.

An uncle of the groom, Russell Maurigi, cut and served the cake. Mrs. Alma Ruspoli kept the bride's register. Tea girls were Misses Barbara Moran, Patsy Koolsberg, Jonchetta Ruspoli, Patsy Neceles, Floretta and Louise Durrell. Mrs. Daley chose for her daughter's wedding a pale blue lame suit, and a hat in similar tones. A cymbidium orchid corsage completed her ensemble.

Mrs. Rhodes, mother of the groom, assisted in receiving in a Mistibblue silk dress, matching satin hat and accessories and a corsage of mauve cymbidium orchids.

For traveling the bride wore a beige wool suit trimmed with a fur collar, bone accessories. The orchids from her bridal bouquet completed her attire.

Upon their return from a trip to Florida, the couple will be at home at 414 Carroll Avenue.

"Lover Come Back" Starts Legion Theatre Thursday, March 1st

Most the unhyphenated Rock Hudson. No producer-director or executive-star billing for Mr. Number One, at The Box Office. Just call Hudson by the word which describes him best—actor. Rock is proud of that simple, unadorned term.

While other Hollywood celebrities pace the plush sanctuaries on kept inviolate for the Sam Goldwyn and Louis B. Mayers of the motion picture industry, trying on the various brass hats that give them a greater sense of power, Hudson pursues his craft with unrelenting single-mindedness perfecting himself in every form of the dramatic art.

Currently Hudson is on a comedy kick with Doris Day and Tony Randall, his two "Pillow Talk" pals. They are re-united for Universal's "Lover Come Back," to open at the Legion Theatre, Thursday, March 1st.

"Lover Come Back" and another earlier comedy, "Come September," co-starring Hudson with Gina Lollobrigida, Sandra Dee, Bobby Darin and Walter Slezak, were shot under the combined banners of Universal and 7 Pictures Corporation an independent filmery of which Hudson is president. But Rock does not work at being president. He does not seek to produce or direct the pictures his company films and he has no desire to make sounds like an executive. He simply wants to entertain people and, doing so, become the best and most versatile actor he can.

Upon their return from a trip to Florida, the couple will be at home at 414 Carroll Avenue.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Russell Federico and son Rusty of New Orleans; Mr. and Mrs. Wade Guice, Mr. and Mrs. John Cook Jr., Mr. George Rhodes; Assistant District Attorney and Mrs. Clyde Hulbert; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dick, all of Biloxi, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Dousset, Plaquemine, La.

The table, covered with a silk damask cloth, was centered with an arrangement of white blossoms and greenery, flanked by crystal double-branched candelabra holding white tapers.

Miniature dolls dressed as the bride and maids trimmed one side of the table. Gifts were presented by the couple to the attendants.

Mrs. Frank Ruspoli entertained last Wednesday night at a miscellaneous shower for the bride at the VFW home in Pass Christian. The honoree, who wore a pale blue sheath, was presented with a corsage of red carnations.

Mrs. Rhodes and Mrs. Frank Daley, received white carnations. Pink champagne, coffee, punch and cake were served to the 20 guests present.

The silver coffee service centered the table with an arrangement of mixed flowers on one side and a large cake trimmed with two red hearts with the names of the couple on the other side.
